Securing Spectacular Views

The roofing structures have been designed to maximise the country vistas.

The Orchard home designs utilise a durable rib-and-block slab method, topped with a reinforced concrete layer. The topping incorporates a waterproofing additive for enhanced moisture resistance, as well as a waterproofing membrane with a 10-year warranty, ensuring long-term protection against water ingress.

To further enhance insulation as well as aesthetic appeal, a layer of granite stones have been added over the waterproofing membrane. This provides a natural, uniform finish to the home, and makes it fully traffic-able by foot, offering added functionality.

Solar panels are securely mounted on a steel structure, anchored to the roof using concrete weights. This method avoids penetrating the waterproof membrane, fully preserving its integrity.

The concrete topping is cast with falls to direct stormwater efficiently towards a series of full-bore downpipes. These downpipes are covered with steel grating to prevent blockages from granite stones.
